SUMMARY

Go-to-market operator with 6+ years building enterprise GTM motions for technical and vertical AI products. Owns the full motion: category narrative and positioning for senior technical buyers, self-sourced demand, design partner programs that convert to revenue, and the funnel instrumentation that proves what works. At an AI-native startup, built the US enterprise GTM motion end to end: defined the product category, ran a 27-member design partner program, produced the first public launch event, and developed $400K in qualified pipeline that converted the first signed enterprise deal. Backed by revenue and retention analytics on a $125M subscription book. STEM MBA; PMP certified.

EXPERIENCE

GTM & Product Growth | Aiseberg (Aisepedia)

Sept 2025 - Present | San Francisco, CA

- Built the US enterprise GTM motion in direct partnership with the founder: seeded a new product category and owned positioning end to end, iterating across 32 discovery sessions until it used the buyer's language, and converted it into $400K in qualified pipeline across 134 tracked accounts and the first signed enterprise deal (Splunk, a Cisco company, from design partner to paid).
- Built the demand engine: a 1,000-contact LinkedIn outbound funnel, self-sourced over six weeks, that produced a 27-member design partner program of senior operators (18 at Director, VP, or SVP level from Atlassian, Databricks, Reddit, Splunk, and Taboola) and gave sales a pipeline of accounts that already knew the product.
- Built the competitive intelligence layer against five named enterprise competitors, turning research into battle cards and objection-handling frameworks that equipped the founder and sales team to win technical evaluations across 30+ enterprise conversations.
- Produced the first public launch, a $13K San Francisco event that drew 83 registrations and 36 senior attendees with speakers from Meta, Google, and Atlassian, owning venue, vendor, audience acquisition, and on-stage programming end to end.
- Instrumented an 11-event Mixpanel and PostHog tracking plan across an 8-stage funnel and built lifecycle automation (n8n, HubSpot, Calendly) with a 5-touch re-engagement system, defining 22 KPIs, cutting early-stage onboarding abandonment 24% and lifting beta cohort activation to 44%.

Senior Analyst, Revenue & Strategy | POLITICO

May 2024 - June 2025 | Arlington, VA

- Surfaced $250K in monthly expansion by blending behavioral and revenue signals across renewal, upsell, and wallet-retention data, tracking the flagship product to a 110% net wallet-retention rate.
- Enabled 21 Account Executives to adopt a new order-management system with zero errors by directing a two-month migration from AdBook to Placements.io, with automated validation across 26,000+ deal records.
